

Dear Benefits Professional:

In today's hectic, "do more with less" world of employee benefits, your time is more valuable than ever before. We all need to stay on top of emerging trends and ideas, and find ways to do it without an onerous time commitment. As one of the leading associations for employee benefits in the area, the Employee Benefits Planning Association (EBPA) can be a valuable resource for the information and ideas you need to maximize your effectiveness.

The EBPA Advantage

Your EBPA membership is one of the most effective and efficient ways to stay current with the latest trends in benefits planning, administration and communication. We are a diverse organization and welcome practitioners at all levels and those in service to the profession who share our goals.
